IMPEACH Judge Jay Bybee After authoring memos explaining how prisoners could be tortured while skirting federal law, but before the memos became public, Bybee was confirmed to a seat on the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. "No lawyer who gives his clients advice about how to break the law deserves a seat on the federal judiciary," said Debbie Liu, General Counsel at People For the American Way. "If Judge Bybee won't resign, it's clear that the House needs to begin impeachment proceedings." Today our members are joining the growing call to impeach Jay Bybee, who turned his back on the Constitution when he signed off on memos authorizing torture. These actions make Bybee unfit to serve as a federal judge, and Congress should impeach him," said Justin Ruben, Executive Director of MoveOn.org Political Action. The petitions were delivered to the office of House Judiciary Committee Chair John Conyers.

Regarding Credit Fairness:

H.R. 627, the Credit Cardholder's Bill of Rights. Adam Smith voted for passage of this bill, he was not a co-sponsor. It appears that this bill is being held up in the Senate by our brand new Democratic Senator Arlen Specter.

Call Murray and Cantwell to find out where they stand on the Senate version of this bill.

Related bills:

S.235, A bill to amend the Truth in Lending Act - to establish fair and transparent practices relating to the extension of credit under an open end consumer credit plan, and for other purposes.

S.414, A bill to amend the Consumer Credit Protection Act - to ban abusive credit practices, enhance consumer disclosures, protect underage consumers, and for other purposes. Neither Murray nor Cantwell is a co-sponsor of this bill.

Regarding Tax Fairness:

"President Obama supports the Stop Tax Haven Abuse Act - announced Treasury Secretary Geithner March 3 at a Ways and Means Committee hearing. Sen. Levin called on Geithner to call for action at the G20 meeting in April to clamp down on offshore secrecy jurisdictions that impede tax enforcement." from Tax Justice USA Network.

H.R.1265, To restrict the use of offshore tax havens and abusive tax shelters to inappropriately avoid Federal taxation, and for other purposes. Smith is not a co-sponsor of this bill. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and in addition to the Committees on Financial Services, and the Judiciary.

S.506, A bill to restrict the use of offshore tax havens and abusive tax shelters to inappropriately avoid Federal taxation, and for other purposes. Murray and Cantwell are not co-sponsors of this bill. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Adam Smith is a member of the New Democrat coalition in the House. A quick check of consumer-friendly and American taxpayer-friendly legislation finds that House Reps in this coalition do not co-sponsor these sorts of bills. These New Democrat folks appear to be very friendly to corporations, not so friendly to their constituents.

Regarding health care, also, indirectly, campaign finance:

H.R.676, To provide for comprehensive health insurance coverage for all United States residents, improved health care delivery, and for other purposes.

Why aren't supporters of the single-payer option seated in discussions held by Senator Baucus?

"Senator Max Baucus and the Senate Finance Committee are too corrupted by corporate health industry profiteers donations to give America the health care policy it needs. . .

"Baucus has held two hearings so far and has refused to allow advocates for the most popular reform – a single payer national health policy – to even testify. Single payer, improved Medicare for all, is favored by more than 60% of Americans as well as majorities of doctors, nurses and economists. It is the most cost-effective and efficient way to provide health care to all Americans from cradle to grave.

"Why aren't single payer advocates allowed to testify before Baucus' committee? Follow the money.

Campaign donations explain why and demonstrate that the Senate Finance Committee should not be in charge of health care. Senator Reid should remove the health care reform bill from Baucus and start all over before the Health Committee in the senate.

"Here's why Baucus is not doing the peoples business:

"According to OpenSecrets.org over his career he has taken donations from:

"The Insurance Industry: $1,170,313

"Health Professionals $1,016,276

"Pharmaceuticals/Health Products Industry $734,605

"Hospitals/Nursing Homes $541,891

"Health Services/HMOs $439,700

"That is a grand total of $3,902,785. ..."

Is Whole Foods Just Another Evil Corporation?

By Sharon Smith, CounterPunch. Posted May 11, 2009.

Beneath the surface of Whole Foods' fuzzy, progressive image is a company hell-bent on preventing its workers from unionizing.

Whole Foods Market is a highly profitable corporation that far outperforms its competitors, while maintaining an aura of commitment to social justice and environmental responsibility

But something sinister lurks beneath the surface of Whole Foods' progressive image. Somehow, Mackey has managed to achieve multimillionaire status while his employees' hourly wages have remained in the $8 to $13 range for two decades. With an annual turnover rate of 25 percent, the vast majority of workers last no more than four years and thus rarely manage to achieve anything approaching seniority and the higher wages that would accompany it. If Whole Foods' workers are younger than the competitions, that is the intention.

Preventing Whole Foods workers from unionizing has always been at the top of Mackey's agenda, and the company has been successful thus far at crushing every attempt. Perhaps the company's most notorious attack on workers' right to unionize occurred in Madison, Wis., in 2002. Even after a majority of workers voted for the union, Whole Foods spent the next year canceling and stalling negotiation sessions -- knowing that after a year, they could legally engineer a vote to decertify the union. Mission accomplished.

At the mere mention of the word "union," Whole Foods turns ferocious. Even when United Farm Workers activists turned up outside a Whole Foods store in Austin, Texas, where Mackey is based, the company called the police and had them arrested for the "crime" of passing out informational literature on their current grape boycott.

And Mother Jones recently reported, "An internal Whole Foods document listing 'six strategic goals for Whole Foods Market to achieve by 2013 ... includes a goal to remain '100 percent union-free.' " (The above excerpted from Counterpunch. Ed.)
